

Kornel Ehmann
Northwestern University, USA

Biography: Professor Kornel Ehmann is a Professor Emeritus of Mechanical Engineering, McCormick School of Engineering, Northwestern University, USA. He received BSc and MSc degrees in 1970 and 1974 from the University of Belgrade, and a PhD from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1979. He has served as Editor-in-Chief of Manufacturing Letters and Technical Editor of the Journal of Manufacturing Science and Engineering. He has published over 450 articles and mentored over 60 Ph.D. students. He was awarded the SME Gold Medal, ASME Blackall Machine Tool and Gage Award, ASME Milton C. Shaw Manufacturing Research Medal, SME Frederick W. Taylor Research Medal, and the ASME K. Ehmman Manufacturing Medal. He is a Fellow of ASME, SME, AET, and ISNM.